New Lenox Riding Club Will Hold Annual Gymkhana Sunday Afternoon

Boots and saddles will be the watchword at New Lenox Sunday, Oct. 6.

The New Lenox Riding club will hold its annual gymkhana—playday on horseback—on that date and in case of rain the event will be held the following Sunday, Oct. 13.

The place is the same as for previous years, on U. S. 30, half a mile west of the village.

The affair is open to the public and in the past has drawn large crowds.

Starting time is 1 o'clock. All horses present must appear in the grand parade, which will open the show, or be disqualified for the other events.

Floyd W. Hensel, of Plainfield, is so serve as judge for the various competitions and Dr. E. J. Mayer, also of Plainfield, will serve in a double role, announcer and physician. Mrs. Don Warning, of New Lenox is secretary, and Stuart Vanderbilt of Peotone, will be the ringmaster.

Various Events

In addition to the various events involving riding, there is to be a pet parade but burrows, ponies or any rideable animal is barred.

The program lists 13 events with an intermission between the sixth and seventh events.

Winners of the various events will receive horse equipment for prizes.

Not all the work at a gymkhana is done by the horses. The riders also are called upon to show they have strong arms and backs.

In the wheel barrow race, for instance, each rider has a partner. The partner is seated in a wheel barrow across the arena from the starting line. The rider races to his seated partner, dismounts, tosses the reins to the seated third of the act and then pushes barrow and partner back to the starting line. If the horse leads well it's easy. County-towns Branch of Chest Campaign Opens Drive Tonight

The 22nd annual Joliet-Will County Community chest campaign unofficially starts tonight (Oct. 3) when some 100 volunteer workers meet at 6:30 in the Woodruff hotel in Joliet. Called the county-towns division, this group is expected to be 200 strong within a week.

E. B. Workman, probate clerk and chairman of the county-towns division, will preside at this kick-off dinner meeting. Featured on the program will be a brief dramatic skit played by members of the Footlight theater group of the Joliet Park District. Sharing the spotlight on the program will be representatives of the 17 Chest agencies and a film titled, "Don't Sell Them Short."

Chairman of the drive in Mokena has not been announced at this writing. Howard Osmus will chairman the campaign in Frankfort.

Goal is $268,995

The Chest budget committee has set this year's goal at $268,995. Workman will point out that this goal is more than $6,000 above last year's but less than $700 more than collected in 1956.

The requirements of Community Chest agencies have increased 100 per cent in the last ten years and it is up to us to keep pace with those needs. Combining 17 drives into one cuts down confusion, lessens operating expense and requires less time from volunteers. However, we must realize that a dollar or two does not provide much aid to needy welfare and youth agencies when divided 17 ways."

Workman in Charge

County-towns workers will also hear Chairman Workman stress the benefits of the campaign. "Not only do contributors benefit directly by helping provide money needed to conduct the welfare and youth activities. They also benefit indirectly by building a better environment for everyone living in Will county. We would hate to live in an area where such services do not exist."

The official dates of the 1957 drive are Oct. 10-21. The county-towns division starts a week earlier because of the wide rural area to be covered.

Chest agencies include the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H Girls, YMCA, Guardian Angel Home, Lutheran Home for Children, Public Health Council and Catholic Charity and Home Bureau. Others are Catholic Youth Organization, Community Safety Council, Morning Star Mission, Peter Claver Center, Salvation Army, Silver Cross hospital, Social Service Exchange and United Service Organization.

Nearly 600 Americans die each year in accidents involving bicycles. Two-thirds are youngsters between the ages of 5 and 14.

Still Seek Clue To Disappearance Of Molly Zelko

The disappearance of Amelia J. (Molly) Zelko, 47, business manager, officer and stockholder of The Joliet Spectator, a weekly newspaper, remained a mystery as of last night and investigators who have been on the case since it broke last Thursday morning are no closer to a solution.

While officials generally suppose that Miss Zelko was kidnapped they have no evidence that such is the case. Screams in the night and the finding of Miss Zelko's shoes near her car Thursday morning lead police to believe that she was forcibly seized.

Yet even in this there is a mystery. Miss Zelko was wearing a small hat and was carrying a purse, believed to have been of the envelope type. Some investigators argue that had there been a struggle, as the screams and abandoned shoes would indicate, either the purse or the hat would have fallen to the pavement and had that been the case it is not likely, they believe, that the kidnappers would have spent the time fumbling around in the dark to retrieve them. One of the shoes was found on top of the car trunk. The trunk lid was quite dusty but none of the dust had been disturbed as could be expected if the shoe had been kicked or thrown.

If Miss Zelko was kidnapped for ransom police believe that contact with her family or employed would have been made before now.

Search Fruitless

If she were seized by someone holding a personal grudge she may have been killed or she may still be held by her abductor or abductors.

A search of the area has been made by helicopter but no abandoned cars were located. Several shacks and cottages have been searched but no trace of the missing woman has been found.

Miss Zelko, who has had an active part in the making and carrying out of The Spectator policy for many years, has been described as a driving, intense person and one who in the course of crusading thru the paper had made a number of enemies.

There has been talk that Miss Zelko has been kidnapped and probably killed by gangsters but investigators say that so far they have been unable to uncover any evidence of this. (Continued on Page 12)

Sewer and water bonds occupied the attention of Mokena board members at their regular meeting Tuesday night and the board recessed until next Tuesday night when they hope to enter into a contract with four bond houses for the purchase of same.

Paul Philstrand, a representative of the Harry C. Wilson and Co., one of the four bond houses expected to take the Mokena bonds, was at the meeting this week and told the board that he and the other bond representatives would attend the meeting next Tuesday.

Village Attorney Ray Hoolehan said the board was hopeful that a contract could be entered into with the bond houses at next week's meeting.

Originally the bond houses wanted 350 applications for sewer and water service, accompanied by a $10 deposit to show the applications are bona fide. Philstrand indicated this week that the bond houses would be satisfied with a lesser number of signatures. There are now approximately 240 signers and it was expected the number would be increased by next Tuesday.

Mokena has $100,000 in general obligation bonds and a federal grant of $69,300 to apply on the project. The village now wants to sell $280,000 of water and sewer revenue bonds to complete the financing of the program.

As soon as a contract has been signed and the bonds are issued work on the sewer system and sewage treatment plant will be started.

Mokena residents will have an opportunity to purchase these bonds, it was said, and they and other purchasers will be permitted to sell them to the village at any time there are surplus funds available. This would be a concession to the village and the bondholders as the bonds have 25 years to run and usually are not redeemable before that time.

As the water and sewer revenues increase, the board pointed out, the water rates can be lowered or bonds retired, which ever seems to be most advantageous to the community.

The rapid growth of Mokena and adjacent subdivisions make it appear at this time that the village will be in a position to begin the retirement of bonds within a few years.

It is possible that the board may set a limit, say Nov. 1, for applications for service and that after such date connection fees will be increased substantially. It has been suggested that the fee for late comers be fixed at $100 or more.

Silver Cross Nurses School to Hold Open House

Silver Cross School of Nursing, Joliet, announces an open house for girls interested in entering the nursing profession, and their parents and teachers, to be held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 27 beginning at 1 o'clock.

Tours of Silver Cross hospital and the school of nursing and residence will be conducted by students, nurses, and guests interested in taking them will assemble in the main lobby of the hospital on Walnut street. Following the tours a question and answer period will be held in the assembly room of the school beginning at 3 p.m.

Invitations have been sent to parents of students in the school for an annual parents' night program to be held in the assembly room of the school on Friday evening, Oct. 11, beginning at 7:30. There will be a panel discussion on the duties of a student nurse and the qualifications which make for a successful career in nursing. Student posters dealing with safety in the hospital, diets, and other subjects will be on display. Refreshments will be served by the hospital's Advisory Board at the close of the program on each occasion.

Power Company Plans New High Line In Area

(CNS)—Residents of Chicago's southern suburbs will witness next summer the construction of a $1,125,000 transmission line from Goodings Grove at 143rd street and Bell road to the intersection of Ashland avenue, Thornton road, and the Little Calumet River in Blue Island if plans submitted by Commonwealth Edison company to the Illinois Commerce Commission last Wednesday are approved.

Commonwealth's Attorney, Arthur C. Gehr, told ICC Examiner William Smith the 138,000 volt line will accomplish three purposes. It will avoid an overloading of the new generating plant being constructed in Joliet; will reinforce the transmission line now serving the south and southwestern suburbs rapidly increasing population, and will serve as another link in the company's interconnection transmission system.

Gives Route

Gehr said the 15.3 mile long line will run from Goodings Grove to Blue Island between 135th and 143rd streets. This route will take it between Orland Park and Palos Park, and thru Crestwood, Robbins, and Blue Island.

Dale W. Taylor, assistant manager of real estate for Commonwealth, said the route is generally agricultural in nature, but does run thru some rural subdivisions, and forest preserves in Tinley Park and Orland Park.

He said the line goes around McGinnis Slough, which is north of Orland Park because the high voltage line would "put out of business" a manufacturing and testing lab of high frequency equipment in Orland Park.

Approximately 110 steel towers, 120 feet high will be placed at an average of every 757 feet, said Ralph Caswell, overhead transmission engineer for Commonwealth.

Acquire Right-of-Way

Construction of the line is expected to begin Aug. 1, 1958, Caswell said, and is expected to be completed by May 1, 1959, the date set for the completion of the Joliet generating plant.

Of the 297 parcels of real estate needed to provide a 175 to 218 foot right-of-way across the route, Taylor said, 177 parcels have already been acquired.

Only six to eight parcels will have to be condemned through court action, he said, either to determine the owners or settle on a "reasonable price with owners of a couple of parcels who are holding out for exorbitant rates.

Pilots who land at Howell airport at Route 83 and Cicero ave. will have nothing to worry about when the line is constructed, Gehr said. At its nearest point the 210 foot towers are more than 4,000 feet from the airport's 1,700 foot runway. This air clearance is "much more than required," Gehr said.

The commission will rule on the request within a month, Examiner Smith said.

Request Permit To Erect Sign

The Mokena village board is considering the request of Sheldon Hauck to erect a sign 6 by 8 feet on his property located 40 feet west of Wolf road and across the street from a service station which he owns. He plans to use the area for customer parking.

The board will study to see if the sign would interfere with visibility of motorists.

Arrest Driver After Car Smashes Two Parked Autos

Two cars in the used car lot of Schuldt Motor Sales, 17459 Oak Park ave., Tinley Park, car driven by Carl George, of were badly damaged when a Steger, went out of control and crashed into them.

The accident occurred at 12:30 a.m. Sunday. The driver, who was badly shaken up and suffered bruises and scratches, was arrested for reckless driving by Tinley police and released on $200 bond. The case will come before Justice of the Peace, Joseph Lucas, on Oct. 11.

Teens Dance Is Successful

The first annual dance of the Mokena Teen club was successful, according to those in charge.

It was held in the VFW hall on Sept. 18. Ten prizes were awarded during the evening which were donated by various Mokena merchants and gratefully acknowledged by the Teen club.

Miss Sandy Swinford was elected the Teen Queen of Mokena.

The teens thank everyone who contributed to the success of the dance, including the various committee chairmen and the Teen Tone band.

Mayor James Marti was presented with the club's first honorary membership card by president Sandy Swinford.

The club is now three months old. Meetings are held each Wednesday at 8 p.m. in St. Mary's recreation hall. All teens are invited to attend the meetings and to enjoy the dancing which follows. Parents are also invited to attend to see the progress being made.

Any parents interested in helping with this group, should call Harry Fee, teen advisor at 3982, as many other activities are being planned for the near future and help will be needed.

CULVERT PROBLEM

Street Commissioner Willard Munch and Village Engineer Robert Hamilton are to study a request for installation of a culvert at the entry to Andrew Bueschel's driveway to carry away surface water in the vicinity of Revere and Wolf road, and report back to the Mokena village board with a recommendation. Three residents of the area reported to the board Tuesday night that Bueschel was willing to have the culvert installed.

COURT DECISIONS

Many of those urging punitive action to enforce the integration law base their clamor on the fact that the United States supreme court has said that this is the law and therefore must be obeyed.

But there are lawyers, among them a former justice of the United States supreme court, who contend that concerning the integration measure the high court did not act upon the law of the land but rather wrote its opinion from the treaties of various sociologists, psychologists, psychiatrists and others of that ilk which are lumped together in the argot of the day as "head-shrinkers," thus giving their utterances precedent over the Constitution.

The upper court also is showing a tendency to write laws instead of interpreting them and various congressmen are protesting what they term usurpation of legislative powers by the judiciary.

The high court does seem to be on a power binge these days.

Look Ma! No Brakes

Nobody alive, back in the early 19th century, could have foreseen the wonders that have been brought about by the industrial revolution. No one would have believed that industry was to provide living standards for average people that the princes of the day might well have envied.

Some thinkers went to the opposite extreme. They thought that industrial capitalism would exploit working people and make them even poorer than before. In their mistaken fears, they invented a device to penalize business success and discourage capital investment. The idea was to raise the percentage of tax on each higher income bracket.

This device was called "progressive" taxation. It became imbedded in our tax system in 1913. The top rate was seven percent. Now it is 91 percent! Progressive taxation, obviously, is a machine with no brakes. There is no way of automatically stopping the reckless raising of the discriminatory rates.

It is shameful that this nation is hampered in its progress by a tax idea for destroying savings and discouraging investment... an idea that was cooked up back in the early 1800's by European socialists who completely misunderstood the nature of the industrial revolution, which has given vast benefits to all mankind.

Bremen Has Hopes For Conference Title

Wallop Knights 26-7 For 2nd League Win

A 26-7 win over Lincoln-Way last week-end was the third consecutive victory in the current grid season for the Bremen varsity and Braves are now in the throes of championship fever.

The Braves won the Southwest Suburban conference title in 1955 and have high hopes of repeating themselves.

Two of the wins this season have been over conference foes, Sandburg and Lincoln-Way and another league contest is coming up tomorrow when Bremen is host to Oak Lawn. Lincoln-Way will meet Rich.

The defeat last week-end was the second suffered in conference play by the Lincoln-Way Knights so all their hope for a piece of the title has gone glimmering unless the bottom falls out of the loop.

1st Quarter Even
The Knights and Braves played on even terms in the first quarter. Bremen fumbled twice but the Knights were unable to take advantage of these miscues.

Midway in the second quarter the Braves struck paydirt with Julian Bond going over for the touchdown. The attempt for the extra point failed, so it was the Braves 6, Knights 0, at half time.

In the third period Lincoln-Way came close to scoring twice but the Braves defense stiffened and was able to turn back the Knights bid. Midway in the period Bond intercepted a pass on his own 5-yard line and raced 75 yards along the sideline for the Braves second touchdown. This time Paul Menntz made the extra point and the score was Braves 13, Knights 0 as the quarter ended.

Bremen started pounding away in the last quarter and Tony Caffrey scored on a two-yard plunge. The Braves made the extra point and it was 20-0.

Knights' Passes Click
Then the Knights started to roll. Ron Fredin's passes to Ken Weber and hard running by Don Carter and Jim Stauffenberg advanced the ball to the Braves' 12. Bob Hughes skirted right end for 10 yards. Fredin plunged over from the two-yard stripe and Carter ran the ball on an end-sweep to make the extra point.

The Braves final score came on a desperation pass with 15 seconds remaining. Dennis Tatum, legging it toward the goal reached up, speared the pass and kept on going for a touchdown. The try for the extra point failed and the game ended, Braves 26, Lincoln-Way 7.

Lincoln-Way will be host to Rich tomorrow. The Knights were the only team in the conference to take Rich at basketball last year, but to date have never taken the Rockets in football. Tomorrow, Lincoln-Way boosters declare, may be the day.

Sandburg Drops Varsity Tilt to Rich 33-7, But Sophs Win 14-7

Sandburg football teams divided a double bill with Rich last week-end.

The Rockets varsity won 33 to 7 but the Sandburg sophs scored their third win in three starts by taking Rich 14 to 7.

The Sandburg varsity found itself behind by two touchdowns early in the first quarter and then settled down to play the Rockets even thru the second and third periods. But in the fourth quarter Rich scored three times.

Jim Vos cut loose for a 35-yard run in the last quarter to keep Sandburg from being blanked and for good measure personally added the extra point.

In the sophomore game Rich scored early on a 56-yard run and passed for the extra point. The Eaglets came back in the second period to score on a scree pass—Jerry McBride to Jerry Sawyer, with Sawyer going 55 yards for the T.D. McBride booted the extra point to tie the score at 7-all.

The Sandburg sophs put the game away in the fourth quarter when Barry went over on a four-yard smash. McBride's kick for the extra point was good and the game ended with the score, Sandburg 14, Rich 7.

The Sandburgs will be host to Reavis Saturday, Oct. 5. The game is to begin at 12:30.

As an added attraction the Eagles cross-country team will run against Rich following the sophomore game.

Last Saturday the Sandburgs were bested by a powerful aggregation from Rich with the final count being, Rich 21, Sandburg 42.

Hineline of Rich set the new record for the course which is just short of two miles, with his 9:36 and Williams of Sandburg had second best time with 9:49.

Sees Proposed 'Tax Swap' as Move To Curb 'Big' Federal Government

Advocates of "bringing government back home" were heartened by the initial action of the joint federal state action committee, which aims to stem the trend toward centralization of power in Washington.

Meeting in Hershey, Pa., the committee of governors and federal officials, formed at the suggestion of President Eisenhower, reached tentative agreement on a plan under which the states would assume about $500,000,000 in Federal expenditures.

Under this plan, the states would take over complete responsibility for the school lunch program, vocational education, natural disaster relief, water pollution, small "stimulative" grants and 50 per cent of the supplemental old-age assistance.

Taxes Relinquished
In return, it was recommended that the federal government relinquish to the states the taxes it now collects on local telephone service, amusement tickets, cabarets, club dues and initiation fees, coin operated gaming and amusement devices, safe deposit box rentals, bowling alley and pool tables.

Sources in the National Association of Manufacturers hail this plan as encouraging progress. For more than a decade the NAM has been pointing out the danger of progressive concentration of power in the hands of central government, and it heartily endorsed Mr. Eisenhower's program to save the states from becoming "powerless satellites of the national government."

"More Federal aid means higher Federal taxes, less revenue left for state and local governments—and even more dependence on Federal aid", Charles R. Sligh, Jr., executive vice president of the NAM, said recently.

"Grants from Washington to our states have increased more than two and a half times in recent years. But our communities are not 'getting something for nothing'—the cost in taxes is far higher than if the projects were handled at home, by local authorities responsive to local needs.

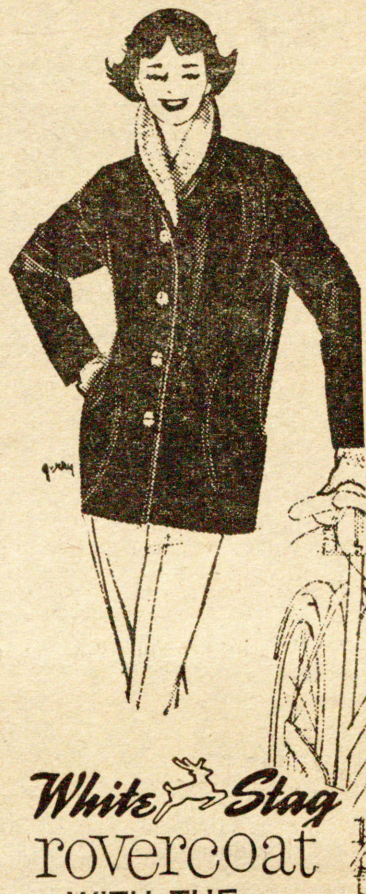

'Panhandling' Seen
"These grants-in-aid, this panhandling approach to filling state and community needs cost Americans far more in freedom than it does in funds. Big-government spending means big-government controls, as many a once-free people have learned to its sorrow."

Mr. Sligh offered "every facility at the NAM's command" to the Joint Federal-State Action Committee adding:

"If there is any way in which 22,000 American business firms of the NAM can be of assistance, that assistance is pledged here and now."

"The President's task force will meet with opposition—some politicians will argue that the people back home demand the continuation of Federal hand-outs."

The cost of modern schools runs as high as $50,000 a classroom, which gives interest to a bit of news from Woodside, California. A schoolhouse there that cost $1,665 to build 80 years ago is still giving good service. Various conveniences have been added during the years, and

STILL SEEK—

The FBI has made inquiries, unofficially, and has access to all the information obtained by Joliet and Will county police so that if they are called into the case they will be familiar with all the details.

According to the procedure followed by the FBI screams in the night and a pair of shoes left in the street, are not evidence of kidnapping. They require a witness or evidence of contact between the kidnappers and the family or friends of the victim.

A Mystery
As it stands, investigators say, Miss Zelko may have been kidnapped by some deranged person, gangsters, or someone with a deep seated enmity and is still alive; she may have been kidnapped and killed, or she may have gone off of her own volition.

Her associates say she was in good spirits when she left The Spectator at 11:27 pm. Sept. 25, and was seen driving away in her own car. She lives approximately six blocks from her office. Neighbors reported hearing a woman scream two or three times at 11:35.

Intensely loyal to her paper Miss Zelko would not have left of her own volition before the paper went to press at noon of Thursday, her associates say.

When she did not appear at her office by 9 o'clock Thursday morning members of The Spectator staff went to her home, saw her car and shoes and getting no response to knocks on her door notified members of her family. A brother entered the apartment and found that apparently Miss Zelko had not entered it the previous night. About 11:30 Thursday morning police were notified.

There has been much speculation concerning Miss Zelko's disappearance but there is no evidence to show that she is alive or dead nor have authorities been able to establish a motive.

Delay Mailing Of Current Water Bills In Mokena

The new water rate for Mokena householders goes into effect Oct. 1. However, mailing of water bills will be delayed a few days as meters were only recently read in the village.

Under the ordinance recently adopted by the village board, meters will be read every two months and bills sent out accordingly instead of once a year as formerly.

The minimum water rate under the new ordinance is $7.50 for a two month period if no more than 4,000 gallons are consumed. The owner of the property, the occupant and the user are jointly and severally liable to pay for the service. Bills must be paid within 15 days after receipt if a 10 per cent fine is to be avoided. When a bill is 30 days overdue the account is held to be delinquent and becomes a lien on the real estate.

The village clerk is instructed to file a notice of the delinquency with the county recorder. Failure to pay a bill within 40 days, the measure provides, will result in cutting off the service. Before service can be restored, the bill must be paid in full, plus a fee of $1.50 for turning on the water.

Agree On Use Of Frankfort Methodist Church

A joint meeting of the trustees of the Good Shepherd Lutheran and the Frankfort Methodist church was held in the Methodist church Monday, September 30. The meeting called at the request of the Lutheran board was to discuss the contract concerning sale of the present Methodist church building to the Lutheran group and noting Oct. 1, 1957, as date of occupancy.

Henry Kuch, chairman of the Lutheran board, who presided at the meeting, said that several rumors of possible action by the Lutherans have been falsely circulated. "From the very beginning our board has taken the attitude that you would be allowed whatever time is necessary to complete your building," he told the Methodist trustees. "We do not want to rush you", he said.
By mutual agreement the present plan of Methodist services in the morning and Lutheran services in the afternoon will continue to be used until such time as the Frankfort Methodist church edifice is completed.

The Methodists hope to occupy the new building by Christmas or before the end of

The Rev. Ben F. Day expressed appreciation to the Lutherans for the pleasant and mutually pleasing way the dual use of the church has been executed. Pastor Adolph Ullrich responded, "Everyone has cooperated to the benefit of all."

Both groups have used the building since April 1956.

Green Garden Youth Club to Meet In Town Hall Oct. 8

A meeting of the newly organized Town and Country Youth club will be held Tuesday, Oct. 8, at 8 p.m. in the Green Garden town hall. A constitution will be adopted by members at this meeting. Plans for a Halloween party which is scheduled for Oct. 26, will also be made.

All persons over 18 years old and unmarried are invited to attend and participate in the meeting and recreation which will follow.

Green Garden is located south of Frankfort at the intersection of Center, Monee and Manhattan roads.

Transportation Costs Kept Low At Lincoln-Way

Verne Crackel, county superintendent of schools, recently released the transportation statistics and claims for the past school year. Again, Lincoln-Way had one of the lowest per capita cost among the county schools. This figure amounted to $33.34 in comparison to the entire county average of $51.53.

The state reimburses the school district, up to three-fourths of the school's per capita transportation costs, or $20 per pupil. Lincoln-Way transported on the average of 497.66 pupils last year, and will receive a total of $9,953.20 from the state funds. The total costs last year amounted to $16,592.69 leaving $6,639.49 for the local cost.

Considerable credit for the economy of operation is due to the competent bus drivers and to the two men in charge of the bus maintenance, Frank Goetschel and Fred Weitendorf, school officials stated.

As the X-ray specialist walked down the aisle to say the marriage vows with a former patient, someone whispered: "I wonder what he saw in her?"

2 Zoning Cases Set For Hearing at Mokena Monday

Zoning hearings dealing with two parcels of Frankfort property are scheduled to be held at the Cooper-Hostert garage, Mokena next Monday night at 6:15 o'clock.

Attorney Herbert P. Folkers is asking that a piece of property adjoining the village of Frankfort on the West and along the north of the Michigan Central right-of-way be classified as I-2 which is for heavy industry.

It is reported that the Skelly Oil Co., has an option on the tract and would erect storage tanks and warehouses there.

Originally the hearing on this petition was to have been in August but was postponed when no one appeared.

The other parcel of real estate is on the west side of U. S. 45, north of U. S. 30. It is owned by Grace Eisenbrandt who is asking that it be classified I-1, light industry. It is proposed that a warehouse be located on the property for the distribution of building materials.

The interest cost of a mortgage can be calculated by multiplying each payment by the number to be made; the subtracting the total from the original loan.

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Statistics on population growth are often very dull, but they are probably one of the most important facts that investment managers must keep in mind. Obviously, any substantial growth of population must have a considerable influence on the growth of industry.

In a recent issue of "The Outlook", official organ of Standard & Poor, leading investment advisory service, they had this to say on the substantial population increase. "Between now and 1965, American industry will have opened to it a vast new market matching the combined populations of the states of New York and Pennsylvania. This picture presented by the population projections of the Bureau of Census. It is one of the most bullish factors in the long term outlook for the national economy and the securities markets.

With the birth rate up and people living longer, the total U. S. population rose from 132 million in 1940 to 165 million in 1955, a gain of 25 per cent. Maintenance of this rate of annual increase is forecast for the next 20 years. The nation will grow to an estimated 190 million in 1965 and to 218 million in 1975, representing additional increases of 15 per cent and 32 per cent over 1955 population.

Productivity Counts

By itself a big population does not assure prosperity as evidenced by China and India, but when accompanied by increased productivity and per capita income, the result points to a vigorous economy.

The political and social implications are obvious - an enormous and continually expanding need for more schools, homes, hospitals, etc. To business and industry it signifies a greatly enlarged demand for goods and services and the need for expansion of productive capacity. That American industry is looking well ahead, is evidenced by the record-breaking expansion programs of many firms.

An element which is unique in the United States, is the manner in which our population moves about from one section of an area to another. This is not found in Europe.

According to Nation's Business, 35 million Americans—21 per cent of the population—will move to a different home this year. Twenty Three million will move to a different residence in the same county, seven million will move to a different county in the same state, and five million will move to a different state.

This population mobility has an important impact on the changing character and size of markets, the supply and type of labor available, the demands for housing, schools, public utilities and other facilities.

The mobility of the population

FARM NEWS

For Cook County
by
W. F.
Whiteside

assistant farm adviser

The Farm Progress show at Farmers City, was packed with new and interesting things for farm people to see. Floyd Adair, George Kloss, Leonard Kloss, all of Chicago Heights, and I, flew down in Floyd's plane. I saw many other farm folks from South Cook county, all enjoying this agricultural "spectacular". Farm machinery and other farm equipment comprised a big part of the show. Many companies had their very latest products on display. In addition to equipment, there were acres and acres of fertility, weed control, irrigation, and crop variety demonstrations.

It would have made the hearts jump of some of the old timers to see the old "steamer" operating a threshing machine of early vintage. The older folks will remember the models with the conveyor instead of the blower for stacking straw. This machine required manual band cutting and measured grain by the half bushel.

A newer farming innovation which drew a lot of attention were the crop dryers. A dryer allows earlier harvesting and a more uniform product. The flying farmers attended in force. Over 300 private planes were registered the first day of the show.

Records of Cook county 4-H members ranked rather well at the district records meeting. Twenty-five members received state project honor and 12 received state outstanding member recognition.

These youngsters, along with other achievement members will be recognized for their accomplishments at the annual achievement day, Nov. 5, 7:00 p.m. at the Homewood village hall.

Feeding grit to young chicks may reduce gains. Broilers fed grit will eat more cracked grain and less mash than those fed no grit, and appears to depress gains.

Results from farm records kept in cooperation with the Department of Agricultural Economics show that the poultry business in Illinois is very competitive. It is a "must" to handle a flock at top efficiency and presents a problem to the investment manager. He must be alert to the changes in both old and new potential markets.

Shifting pattern of the population and the changes brought about by science, etc.

Most investors are aware, at least to some degree, of day-to-day financial developments, but are not too familiar with developments relating to population changes such as are under discussion.

prices if a profit is to be realized. One cannot afford to be an average poultryman selling eggs at an average price in Illinois.

Plan Constructive Halloween now. "Tricks or Treats" and destructive Halloween pranks are taking a back seat to family and group activities in many communities. So start planning now for a constructive October 31 in your community.

You may get some help from a booklet prepared by the National Recreation association. It's entitled "Planning for Halloween" and is divided into two parts.

Part 1 contains material for family or small group party games, stunts, directions for telling fortunes, a short play and suggestions for creating such special effects as a chamber of horrors. Part II contains ideas for planning and conducting large group celebrations either indoors or outdoors. And it also has a section on window painting.

You can order this booklet thru you local library or obtain their loan copy. There is a small charge.

Meet Your Neighbors

Mrs. Mary Jensen, 17915 John ave., is a tall, vivacious young woman who moved here from the South Shore district of Chicago. She was for five years, a teacher in the primary grades, preferring the first grade, she says, as the young children are so eager at that age. She is decorating the interior of her home in tones of brown and beige, her favorite colors of course. Mary has traveled widely across the United States, east and west, and can tell fascinating stories of her impressions of local characteristics of the American people she has met.

Mr. Carl Timmerman is a quiet young man of astounding energy. He has been working full force for the new Christian church in our village and with the formation of the new Cub Scouts. After knowing all this about his social dedication, it was a grand surprise to hear him sing at the church service last Sunday morning. His voice was a full vibrant drum of sound, echoing to every corner of the building in an obviously controlled and disciplined tone. He has studied singing for many years with a private teacher, Leonard Hubeer, and at the Chicago American Conservatory of Music.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Sonne from Moscow, Pa., have been visiting their son, Harley Sonne at 17927 John ave., during their vacation. Mr. Sonne, a pharmacist in his home town, said he was very impressed by the friendliness of our new village.

Mrs. Alice MacKenzie has moved to our village from two years in Joliet (the town—not the prison). While there she had been superintendent of the primary school for their Joliet Central Presbyterian church. Before that she helped manage church education for the Marquette Park Presbyterian church. Today she uses this experience for providing exciting activities for the 35 youngsters attending the new Christian church here. She has planned cut outs, pasting games, and many activities that incorporate the child's natural wish to create material objects with religious symbols and lessons.

Mr. Don Wilson, 17925 John ave., designs the packages that we all pick up and chose to buy in the stores around us. (At least, his AIM is to design the ones we do finally choose.) For the past few years he has been creating new children's toy novelties for the Wrisley Soap and Cosmetic company. All his inventions must be folded and cut from various papers and used for both containing merchandise and serving as toys after the merchandise has been used. In the evenings he has been inventing new toy designs for simple die-cut productions of either heavy papers or lightweight woods. One such design has just been taken to Los Angeles by the Mattel Musical toy company for consideration in their next year's toy-with-sound line.

Now that I have finished this first column, it is obvious to you that I draw the material from those nearest to me: neighbors, co-workers, and family. I shall be hoping to hear from all of you who read this column, your OWN ideas and information for next week. You can write me: Mrs. Rusty Wilson, 17925 John ave., or call me at the number listed in the heading with your news, personal, organizations or community. Til next week then, may you fare well.

This mechanical marvel is now working its way across your county—helping to lay the important new Texas Eastern petroleum products pipeline between Seymour, Indiana, and Chicago.

At the rate work is going, construction crews and equipment will be through the job in fabulously short time. Nature and the weatherman willing, the 230-mile stretch of 14-inch diameter pipeline will be coated, wrapped, entrenched and ready for use 6 weeks from the start of the job—give or take a few days!

This new line (map shows route) is part of a 1700-mile Texas Eastern system that will bring refined oil products to the interior Midwest from giant Gulf Coast area and Midcontinent refineries. It may bring gasoline for your car—or fuel oil for heating the house next winter, or kerosene or liquefied butane and propane gas.

Of course, communities along the pipeline are already benefiting from it. Construction workers and their families are buying supplies and services locally. Independent contractors—building the line under the direction of Texas Eastern people—are purchasing quantities of supplies through local merchants.

When the pipeline is completed and the right-of-way restored as nearly as possible to its original condition, permanent Texas Eastern crews will handle operation and maintenance.

As permanent citizens of the county—paying local taxes, patronizing local stores—they'll take pride in being good neighbors, working with you for the long-range good of the community.

Seymour-Chicago Lateral brings total length of Texas Eastern natural gas and oil products pipeline system to more than 7,600 miles.

Sunflower Lives Up to Its Name; World-Wide Crop

by ROBERTS MANN
Conservation Editor, Cook Co. Forest Preserve

No plant seems to fit its name so closely as the sunflower. The broad disk of the flower head with its ring of flaming yellow rays resembles those symbols that man has used to represent the sun since ancient times.

In summer and early autumn the most conspicuous bands and masses of rich yellow and orange in our landscapes are added by the sunflowers. All originated in North America and all but a few are centered in the United States. Of the sixty odd species, most are natives of the sun drenched prairies and other open areas. In a dozen western states you can drive hour after hour and day after day between long golden rows of sunflowers that stretch to the horizon.

The sunflower is the only plant, used world wide as a crop, which has been domesticated in the United States. For hundreds or thousands of years before white men came to this country the American Indians cultivated at least two kinds of sunflowers.

A Big Plant

The most important one, a native of the Great Plains, was a tall coarse branching species with many showy flower heads. From it, at an early date, the Indians developed the single headed, unbranched type which we know as the common, or garden sunflower. Under cultivation this is one of the largest annual plants known, with a stem up to 15 feet tall, lined with huge rough leaves, and topped with a head that may be 20 inches across and producing 5000 or more seeds.

These abundant, fat filled, vitamin rich, nut like seeds were eaten raw, or were slightly parched and ground into flour for making bread, cakes or rich soups. Also, the oil was extracted by boiling the crushed seeds and used as a hair dressing, for softening leather, and in cooking. A yellow dye was obtained from the flowers, and a textile fiber from the large stalks.

Seeds Feed Man, Beast

From its original home on the Great Plains this cultivated sun flower passed from tribe to tribe until it was grown from coast to coast. In the early 1600s the great French explorer, Samuel de Champlain, found Indians on the east coast of Lake Huron planting it in their gardens. Soon afterward this garden sunflower was introduced into Europe. Since then, sunflower farming has spread around the world and it has become an important crop in Hungary, Russia, Egypt, Turkey, India, Peru and western Canada. Like most other world crops it thrives better in foreign countries than in its ancestral home because it has left a multitude of pests and diseases behind. The seeds are used as food for man, livestock and poultry. The oil has fine qualities for table use, for making soap, and in industry. The seeds are unexcelled as a food to offer our winter song birds.

What's In a Name

Another sunflower, the Jerusalem Artichoke, also was domesticated centuries ago by the Indians. The wild form, a native of our northern states and southern Canada, has small edible underground parts but the cultivated type has tubers that may be as large as medium sized potatoes. When cooked they are grayish and soggy with a sort of woodsy or nutty flavor which some people find palatable; others do not. Likewise it was taken to Europe in early times and is now grown there more than in America. The name is misleading because it is not a true artichoke nor does it have anything to do with Jerusalem. That is merely a corruption of the Italian name for it—"girasole."

Wantads Pay Dividends

Can Get Social Security Checks, And Work-But Don't Work too Much

It is not necessary to quit all work activities to get social security benefits. Payment of some, or all checks can be made to beneficiaries even though they continue in part-time, or seasonal work, according to Cornelius R. Schafer, manager of the district social security office, located at Harvey.

"How much can I work and be considered retired?" Congress has ruled that any person earning $1,200 or less in a calendar year, is retired. Where earned income exceeds $1,200 in a calendar year, the person is not fully retired, but may be partially retired and entitled to some benefits under the retirement test. This test applies to any person under age 72 who is entitled to monthly social security checks.

Explains Retirement Tests

Schafer pointed out that there are three successive steps to the retirement test applied to employees and self-employed persons.

1. In all cases where earned income is $1,200 or less, all monthly benefits are payable.

2. Where earned income is over $1,200, but less than $2,080.01, some benefits may be payable. A beneficiary loses one benefit check for each $80 by which his earned income exceeds $1,200. For example, a beneficiary who has earnings of $1,632.10 in 1956, would have exceeded $1,200 by $432.10. This is five and fraction times $80 and would cause loss of 6 benefit checks for that calendar year.

3. Where a beneficiary has earned income of over $2,080, all social security checks are normally lost for that year. However, an employee may still receive his benefit check for any months in which he earned $80 or less, regardless of the total amount of his earned income. A self-employed beneficiary may receive his benefit check for any months in which he does not take a substantial part in the operation of his business, even though his earned income exceeds $2,080 for the year.

Defines Earned Income

Schafer defined earned income as income received from services rendered as an employee, or the net profit from the operation of a business or farm. This does not include rent, income from stocks or bonds, unless a dealer in these commodities, capital gains, interest, insurance payments, or other pensions.

Under these provisions of the Social Security Act many persons can supplement their savings and social security benefits to maintain the standard of living they desire.

Oh Brother! Purple License Plates For 1958

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier said today uniformed investigators from his office have begun distribution of application blanks and other forms for 1958 registration of motor vehicles to various outlets throughout the state.

Mr. Carpentier pointed out that his office began accepting applications for reassignment of current numbers Oct. 1. All motorists wishing to retain their present numbers should have their applications in the Secretary of State's office by Nov. 1, he added.

The recent session of the general assembly increased the fees for five separate items, Secretary Carpentier reminded motorists. They are for certificate, all raised to $1, and motorcycle and motor bicycle registration, raised to $6.50.

The 1958 license plates, bearing purple numerals on a white background, will all be made of lightweight steel, and will in a saving of about $150,000 over a two-year period by eliminating about 1,500,000 higher priced aluminum plates, Mr. Carpentier said.

The 1958 supplies are being distributed to automobile dealers, notaries public, Judges, county clerks and others who have specifically requested them.

Chairman Martin of the Federal Reserve Board says: "Experience over the centuries has demonstrated that there is no tolerable alternative to adequate fiscal and monetary policies, operating in an environment of open, competitive markets under our system of human freedoms. Neither an economic dictatorship nor complacent acceptance of creeping inflation is a rational or tolerable way of life for the American people."

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

THOUGHT FOR DAY —ktJscPr'e
Read 1 Peter 2:17-25.
Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. (Peter 2:17.)

The Republic of Indonesia is Australia's nearest neighbor. Since gaining independence, Indonesia has made mighty efforts to train leaders in education, medicine, engineering, science and every other essential sphere. However, shortages of trained personnel are greatly handicapping the nation's efforts to improve conditions.

To help overcome this problem, the Australian Student Christian Movement has appointed field officers to recruit young graduates from Australian universities to spend some time in Indonesia. Thus, young Christians are now working as teachers, doctors, agricultural scientists, engineers, and in other occupations to help Indonesia's forward movement.

In the eyes of Christians, no barriers of class, creed, or color exist, but all people are Christ's children and we are all one family. The need of one section is a call of Christ to us to be His agents in giving all possible help.

PRAYER

O God, our Father, Thy Son Jesus lived His life helping those in need. We, too, would live lives filled with brotherly love to all Thy children. So fill us with Thy love that we shall seek to help those in need. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The ever-present power of the Christ, Truth, to heal sickness and to destroy discord will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, October 6.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" will include the following from Luke (13:11-13): "And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (142:31): "Truth is God's remedy for error of every kind, and Truth destroys only what is untrue. Hence the fact that, today, as yesterday, Christ casts out evils and heals the sick."

STRENGTH For These DAYS

from The Bible
...and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.—(St. John 6, 37.)

Sometimes, for reasons that we vainly try to justify, we look upon another human being with distaste or contempt. Then we should remember the abounding compassion of the Lord Jesus Christ, and humbly pray for His forgiveness.

LATIN CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Officers for both Latin clubs have been elected and they will form the executive committee who will plan the program for the Latin students this year.

Latin II officers are Norvene Foster-consul Barbara Rollings-pro-consul, Janice Miller-scriba, Tammy Trump-quæstor, and Charles Otto-lictor.

Latin I officers are Barbara Daughterty-consul, Bob Munch-pro-consul, Anne Cummings-scriba, Gwen Doering-quæstor, and Larry Wennlund-lictor.

F.B.L.A.

The F.B.L.A. club met Sept. 11 for its organization meeting. The tentative roll numbers 89. From this group the following officers were chosen: Shirley Wahl, president; Pat Wilson, vice president; and Lois Fee, secretary. The position of treasurer will be appointed at the next meeting. Fred Kieslar was appointed bookstore manager and you have probably seen many other FBLA members diligently working in the bookstore.

PHILIPPINE TEACHER VISITS

Miss Carmen Gollena, an exchange student from the Philippines, was the guest of Miss Eunice Harra and Lincoln-Way last week. She is at present attending the Duke University at Durham, N. C.

While visiting Lincoln-Way Miss Gollena spoke to the Latin classes, a Spanish class, English IV classes and an American history class.

Writing in Hoday's Health, Dr. William Bolton says that seven basic food sources will provide an adequate diet for a normal person: green and yellow vegetables; citrus fruits, tomatoes and tomato juice, strawberries and melons; milk and milk products; meat, poultry, fish and eggs; bread, flour and cereals; butter or fortified oleomargarine; other vegetables including potatoes.

When we consider that night driving is about twice as hazardous as day time driving, says The Illinois Division of Traffic Safety, it seems just plain, common sense to start home earlier from that Sunday trip and get home before dark. Leave the night driving for those who must be out.

A public card party will be held in Green Garden town hall Friday evening Oct. 11, beginning at 8 o'clock. Families are requested to either bring sandwiches or a cake. Hostesses for the evening will be the officers and their wives.

Thirty-seven students of Bremen community high school have been selected to serve as student assistants to check out books and magazines at the school library.

Applications were made to Mary Alice Smith, school librarian, who stated that the students would thus learn skills which would help them in obtaining jobs in public libraries or in working their way thru institutions of higher learning.

Several hundred new books will be on the shelves within a month, and the freshmen will receive orientation thru social studies classes. Another innovation at Bremen this year is the Nation-wide Girl Scout membership has tripled since 1944 but many girls, like Janice, must wait to become Girl Scouts because there is a shortage of adult troop leaders.
